

College Credit Plus – Accuplacer testing for acceptance

Students who do not have college testing, or do not meet the requirements on the ACT/SAT test, will need to take the Accuplacer test.

This test is done at the college/university that you want to apply to for College Credit Plus.

For students taking classes through Ohio Christian University, students will be given the opportunity to take the Accuplacer at FCA. Details will be sent out on when and where the testing will take place.

Remember that the OCU deadline for applying for Trail Blazer Academy (CCP) is March 18 and this testing must be part of application process.
