Administrative Update

Dear FCA Families,

We hope you enjoyed the Virtual Field Trips and Virtual Field Day experiences this week. The teachers showed off their creative talents when they put them together! We hope you had many wonderful adventures and learned a few new things too. Who knew that polar bears had black skin underneath those beautiful white coats.

Quite a few families have asked for some resources to keep the learning going all summer, so we have compiled a list of resources that we think are user friendly and on point academically and spiritually. As you encourage your children to keep reading, thinking, and exploring this summer, we hope the following resources will help. FCA is a resource too! We will be here all summer – if you have questions about anything, give us a call.

Craig Carpenter, Superintendent
Laura Putinski, Assistant Superintendent

Summer Resources

Right Now Media is a video library of Bible Studies and videos for children. This great resource can be yours for free through the generous donation of an FCA family. Please contact us for subscription information.

Khan Academy was created by experts to help children learn. Khan Academy's library of trusted, standards-aligned practice and lessons covers math K-12 through early college, grammar, science, history, AP®, SAT®, and more. It's all free for learners and teachers.

MobyMax is an adaptive curriculum used to help create an individualized educational experience for children. (K-8 FCA students have access all summer using the same log-in used during the building closure.)

Epic! is the leading online literacy resource for parents and teachers. Even though you may not be able to go to the library this summer - your student can still be a book worm. Check out their library of more than 40,000 books and videos through a free 30-day trial.

Reading Rockets provides targeted resources to help students with the foundational skills of reading such as phonemic awareness, fluency, vocabulary and comprehension skills. Plus, they've partnered with PBS to produce a variety of fun and engaging literacy programming!

FCA Summer Tutoring provided by FCA Staff. Visit FCA's website for the list of teachers who have said they are available for private tutoring this summer.
